A Newsletter for the Stakeholders of Sunman-Dearborn Community Schools

Sowing the Seeds

There are two sayings that come to mind this time of year. The first one is: "April Showers bring May Flowers!" The second one is: "You reap what you sow." As we begin to wind down the school year, each of the Sunman-Dearborn administrators and staff members think about the impact they have had on the learning of our students. There have been many hours of planning for instruction, creating learning activities, and measuring the success of our students who experienced those learning activities. The work that our staff and administrators have put into the education of each child become extremely important if that work has had a major impact on the learning of each child. I know that there is not a moment when our staff is not thinking about what they do each day that will make a difference in the life of each child in their care.

Dr. Jeff Hendrix
Superintendent

How do we measure that impact? The State of Indiana believes that we measure the impact of our teachers by the performance of our students on the statewide test. I believe that it goes beyond one test. Our staff and administrators are impacting children each day by caring about them when they are sick, by going the extra mile to make sure they get to school safely, by providing them with nutritious meal choices, and by encouraging them to step out of their comfort zones and try new things. Our staff and administrators believe that learning can happen at any time, whether it is in the classroom, hallway, auditorium or on the playing field. We look for those opportunities when they become available that can become teachable moments. That is why our school corporation is very special. We have people who truly care about each other, and especially about our students.

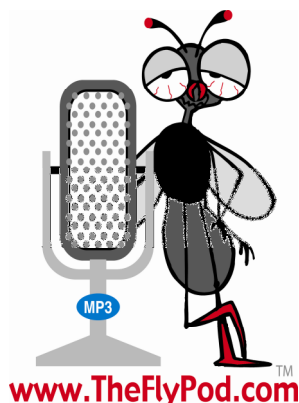

As we begin the winding down of the school year, I encourage our students, our parents and our community to think about the impact that the administration and staff have on educating students to become contributors to our community, and to become life-long learners. Each of our highly qualified staff would appreciate a note of gratitude or a thank you for the work they are doing to make a difference in the lives of our students who attend Sunman-Dearborn Community Schools. I know that by planting the seeds of gratitude will bring a harvest of inspiration for all who work for Sunman-Dearborn Community Schools. I know how important that can be because I see the results of their work every day. So let me begin by being the first one to plant a seed of gratitude by saying, "THANK YOU!", to all who serve our children in the Sunman-Dearborn Community School Corporation.

Avoid the Summer Slump

By: Mandy Copenhaver - Food Service Director

Summer will be here before we know it and that means more free time for kids. While this is a great time for kids to relax and get some rest, research has also shown that most kids tend to gain weight over the summer due to lack of structure, excess free time and increased snacking. Help your child steer clear of the summer slump with a few easy suggestions.

- Get your family excited about the fresh produce the summer has to offer. Whether you have your own garden or go to a local farmer's market, be sure to encourage your family to try a wide variety of colorful produce all season long.
- Try to stick to a meal and snack schedule on most days. Sticking to an eating schedule helps keep too many extra treats from sneaking in your routine. Of course you want to keep summer fun so try picnics in the park, by a lake or in your backyard.
- Keep daily activity as a part of your daily routine. Consider enrolling your child in a structured program during the summer such as camp or dance clinics. You can also try to plan a set time during the day that your child will be active for at least 60 minutes.
- Make it a family affair. Try to plan at least a couple nights a week of family activity. You can take a walk together, swim in your neighborhood pool or play tag.

Enjoy the nice weather while keeping your family healthy and happy!

Words of Wisdom from North Dearborn

Spring Break is behind us and with May 15th quickly approaching, students and teachers alike are preparing for the end of another school year. Book bags will be packed away for the summer, manuals and wall charts will be put into storage for nearly three months, and the halls of the school will be empty aside from the diligent custodial staff that will immediately begin getting the building ready for the next year.

It is important to remember at this time that we are in school still until May 15th (barring any April snow storms). We can't allow ourselves to shut down early and pack it all away before the end is actually here. Finish the year strong. Don't let all that we've worked so hard for fall away because we want to begin our summer early. It will be a much more enjoyable summer vacation if we go into it knowing that we finished a job that we began way back on August 10th. I wish you much success as we work towards the end of the 2011-2012 school year.

Middle School News

Many exciting things are happening at Sunman-Dearborn Middle School this spring. Concerning academics, our students completed the first phase of ISTEP. We will begin the second portion of ISTEP at the end of April. Students will have the opportunity to build ice cream sundaes at the end of the ISTEP window. Choices of tasty sundae toppings will be available for students based on their attendance during ISTEP. Better attendance equals more topping choices! Our science teachers had the opportunity this week to attend a national science conference. Our teachers are meeting routinely to complete common assessments in each department.

We are proud of our Lady Trojan Basketball "A" Team, who finished their season undefeated. Our Trojan wrestlers also had a perfect season. S-DMS chorus students will be showing their great talents at the upcoming chorus contest. We just concluded try-outs for the upcoming talent show. We had an incredible amount of gifted students show an interest. Our annual talent show will be held on the last day of school, in addition to, field day activities in the afternoon on May 15. Awards day will be held at the middle school at 8:30 a.m. on May 14. S-DMS band will be performing their spring concert on May 17, 2012. S-DMS Chorus spring concert will be held on May 21, 2012.

384 students attended our semi-formal dance, Spring Fling. Our S-DMS ladies and gentlemen not only dressed for the occasion, but were also very well-behaved. A good time was shared by all. We would like to thank our parent chaperones and encourage parent involvement with our future endeavors.

The first annual S-DMS community picnic will be held on Tuesday, April 24, 2012 from 3:30-5:30 p.m. It is our desire to bring our teachers, students, parents, and community together. It is important that we build relationship with our students and parents beyond the school day and we look forward to a great turn out on that day. Please come join us for food and fun.

Regrow and Rebuild

The devastating tornadoes that ripped through the Tri-State on March 2, 2012 have had an academic and socially responsive impact on students at Sunman Elementary. While all of the Sunman-Dearborn students experienced a stormy end of day dismissal, students and families in our state had their lives changed in the blink of an eye. Sunman second graders realized this and wanted to help.

With help from their teachers, second grade students developed a plan to raise funds for the American Red Cross to help the tornado victims. They have called their plan "Regrow and Rebuild". Students planned to provide a packet of seeds to those who donated to their effort to collect $500 for the American Red Cross.

Academics were a high priority focus for this plan. Students wrote informational letters to family and community members to inform them of the plan. They created posters to place in public areas to raise awareness and they distributed information to news media. Once donations began arriving, students assisted teachers in counting the money. Then they used an assembly line process to get a seed packet back to the donor.

The collections were graphed by the classrooms and students were excited to see progress toward their goal. The donations ranged in value from a handful of coins to a single community member's contribution of $500.00. The students have surpassed their goal of $500.00 and are now at the $1,600.00 mark. The student-developed plan has been a success, and it will culminate with a visit from a representative of the American Red Cross. Sunman Elementary wishes to thank all those who made this student-driven plan successful.

Spring Library News

By: Donna Swinford

We had a very successful "Read Across America" event this year at East Central. Students had the chance to fill out their favorite book on a cutout shape and these were posted in the library windows. We also did a DEAR day (Drop Everything and Read) on March 28. Everyone in school stopped their work for 30 minutes and used that time to read. Reading is so important for literacy that this skill will determine future success in any field of endeavor. Practice reading is important to develop and maintain a skill. Reading is just as important to literacy as practice is to football or basketball or track.

It is almost time for Elliot Rosewater voting, better known as "Rosie" voting. We have been reading from a list of 25 "Rosie" nominees all year. Students have been taking the AR tests for these as well. During voting, students will be asked to print out their AR reading records for the year and highlight the books on the list on which they have passed the AR test. Students will be given a ballot to rate each book that they have read from one to five stars. The votes will be tallied and sent in to the state who will determine the winner for the year. Last year's winner was The Hunger Games, which was a recently released movie. The books in the trilogy have remained very popular as well.

Students will receive an award pencil for voting. If they have finished and vote on 5 or more books they will receive an invitation to the 'Rosie Ice Cream Party' which will be held in May during lunch. Students who read 15 or more books get a $5 cash prize. Reading all of the books on the list will earn a student an additional $10 prize.

We have many new books in the library. Among these are a cart of books recommended for college preparatory reading. These are highly recommended to be read before taking the SAT or ACT and for preparation for college classes. Check the cart in the library in the new book area and the Reading list on-line through our Destiny Library System. You can check Destiny at school or at home through the school web site. Stop by and visit the library.

All the Fish at S-DIS...are having a great time!!!

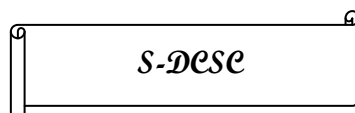

Forty seven Art Club members worked on a painting and it will be on display at the North Dearborn Library now until the end of April. It is a 48" x 72" painting in acrylics, with a few mixed media pieces included. The work is light and whimsical, and some good technique work completed by the students. Also on display at the Library will be some winter Paintings by 6th grade students. Artists displaying at the North Dearborn Library are:
